Hiding in Plain Sight is a 2014 novel by Somali novelist Nuruddin Farah. The novel follows the experience of Bella in the wake of a terrorist attack that kills her brother, Aar, a Kenyan UN worker in Mogadishu. After the death, Bella returns to Nairobi to help care for her brother's family. The ensuing conflict between Bella and her brother's widow becomes a central element of the novel. Hiding in Plain Sight is Farah's twelfth novel.

HIDING IN PLAIN SIGHT is only the second novel of Nuruddin Farah's that I've edited, although I was aware of – and in awe of – his international reputation long before. What I've come to appreciate most deeply in working with him is how human-scale his stories are, how intimate the connections they explore between friends and lovers and family members, wherever they live.
